

ALEXANDRIA

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 13.

The President, yesterday, sent to the Senate the nomination of Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to England, in the place of Mr. Adams, resigned. It is customary to refer Executive nominations to appropriate committees for examination, with occasional exceptions of those relating to members or exmembers of that body, in cases where it is intended to show marks of Senatorial respect by advising and consenting to the Presidential appointments. The Senate on this occasion dispensed with the formality, and Mr. Johnson's nomination was confirmed.

Mr. Butler, of Mass., has, to say the least of it, a very remarkable proclivity towards "difficulties" with every body with whom he comes in contact. His career is a history of lubs and snags. Before the war, during the war, and since the war, his angularities have grated against politicians, generals, lawyers, witnesses, fellow members of Congress, plain citizens, and epauletted commanders. He must have an unhappy disposition, or is the victim of "cruel fate." Certainly, he cannot always be right-and the rest of the world the site for their grounds. At an early stage always wrong, in matters in which he is con- of the meeting, Mayor Banks and other genderned too apt to conference

The Baltimore Commercial, in remarking upon the amnesty ordered by the Austrian government in Hungary, says, it hopes the President will ere long issue a proclamation of amnesty here too, even if it should "gravel" sorely those Messrs. Butler and Stevens-and their immediate admirers. By so doing he would win still further the approbation of good and wise men everywhere. Let us not, whilst so loudly assuming to be the leading light of Christian civilization, allow ourselves to be shamed by Hapsburgs and others hitherto deemed the types of government viodictiveness.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says of the bill introduced into the Senate in relation to the Washington Municinal elections, that if such a measure is passed, the useless farce of going through an election in Washington might as well be abolished, and Congress declare by resolution who shall be the officers. The true title of this bill thould be "a bill to provide that no one elected to any office in Washington city who is not n member of the Radical party, shall be allowed to hold said office."

Mr. Brooks, of New York, in a speech in the House of Representatives, yesterday, said, ' Loyalty had begun to lose the definition given to it by lexicographers, and now, in the opinion of the majority, it meant Radicalism. He would not apply to it the definition which Doctor Johnson had applied to the word "patriotism." But he would say that loyalty had become synonomous with allegiance to the party in power, and with Radicalism."

The Georgetown Courier tells us that Mr. Henry D. Cooke, of the firm of Jay Cooke & ('o.; is a charitable, public spirited citizen, and gives his aid freely to benevolent institutions. We have no doubt of it. Our criticism was ot directed against Mr. C. personally, (towards whom we can have no feelings of unkindness); it was in reference to the unnecessary puffing of a newspaper article, and the ascription of wisdom, because of riches.

The jealousy which exists between East and West, and which has cropped out so much of late years, was well illustrated yesterday, in the Senate, in the colloquy which took place between Mr. Drake and Mr. Wilson, the former accusing New England of being bleated with wealth obtained during the war, at the expense of his section, and as having the desire to do everything against the interests of the West.

Hunnicutt is clamorous for an early election. He warns the authorities that postponement is dangerous and hurtful to the Radical party. He tells all concerned that the probability is that many of the negroes "may leave the State in search of employment, who would be induced to remain if they knew definitely when the election would take place."

The recent "duel" near Savannah Ga., between two colored men, and in which one was killed was conducted, according to the newspapers, in strict compliance with the "code," and in all points, was the "etiquette" observed. Pistols, distance, seconds, &c., were "all right." It is thought there will not be another "duel" in that section for a long time to come.

Congress has passed the act to admit the tates of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida to representation in Congress, the House concurring in the Senate's amendment to the bill. It has been signed by the presiding officers of both houses, and now goes to the President for his appro-

The Nat. Int. says: - "Congress has abandoned the idea of an early adjournment. The Radical majority finds it necessary to await the developments of the National Democratic Convention in regard to nominees, and its platform of principles. The Presidential campaign is to be directed from the Capitol."

The selection of Mr. Reverdy Johnson as Minister to Great Britain, secures the country the services of an able and trained statesman in that important post.

The State Trustees of the Maryland Agricultural and Mechanical Association met in Baltimore yesterday, and after considerable discussion, agreed to select the piece of property called "Pimlico," on the Reisterstown road, as tlemen representing the city's interest in the Association seceded from the meeting. They refused to attend unless allowed an equal vote, and upon being apprized that Pimlico had been selected, they declared that as they were not recognized in the meeting, they could not concur in the choice of a site.

The Whiskey Ring --- Official Corruption Exposed. In the U. S. Circuit Court, sitting in Richmond, Chief Justice Chase presiding, on Thursday, the parties on trial were J. H. Anderson, collector of internal revenue, J. H. Patterson, assessor, and Goldman, Shepherd, Richard Anderson, Horatio Anderson, Mc-Greary, Manson and Elsom, subordinates.

Col. Clarkson, one of the largest distillers in this section, testified that an agreement had been entered into by the distillers on the Southside of the James, and John H. Andersen and John H. Patterson, internal revenue officers of the Fourth District, by which more than ten thousand dollars had been paid them for granting said distillers the privilege of shipping large quantities of spirits distilled by them, without the payment of the revenue tax. The aggregate loss to the government by this arrangement was over $250,000. It was further agreed that these revenue officers should realize $50,-000 annually for these privileges. Many of their subordinate officers were parties to the agreement and profited by their connection

Dr. Clendenin, the next witness, before testilying, desired to know whether an indictment could be found against him upon any testimony he might give in the case?

Mr. Chandler, United States District Attorney, replied, not upon any evidence he himself might give. In June or July Mr. Goldman came to witness and said he thought he would not be doing justice to himself in the office he held unless he made some money above his salary. He then offered witness's firm certain privileges in evading the United States tax on whiskey if it would give him $500. Witness referred him to his partner (Mr. Parrish) with whom the arrangement proposed was consummated .-Under it a good deal of whiskey was shipped, aod the money promised the Government officer paid. A second contract was made, Mr. Parrish representing the Howlett distillery, in which witness also had an interest; Mr. Richard F. Walker, the Roxdale distillery, and Mr. Denmead the Denmead distillery. The four distilleries were to pay $30,000 per annum, to be divided between them for the privilege of shipping five-sixths of all the whiskey they might distill, free of Government tax-the revenue officers to make the arrangements by which this could be effected. Under the agreement, witness recollected that the Roxdale distillery shipped 50 barrels, the Denmead 60 barrels, and the Howlett 58 barrels; the storekeeper representing the Government was to get $2,500. The whiskey was branded by Mr.

Goldman agreed to exempt sixteen tubs of beer for his firm, which he understood to mean whiskey which has only taken the first degree. This was subsequently distilled and only, ten barrels returned for taxation. He went back on him on one occasion, however, because he did'nt like the appointment of Elsom by Anderson, and returned fifty barrels, the full ed faith, who said the only way to remedy it was to claim that it was a mistake, which was done. Most of the clerks and subordinate officers the witness believed were in the arrangement, Mr. McCreary he knew only as a tobacco man, but he supposed that branch of the revenue was managed like all of the others .-The evidence, a synopsis of which is given above, consumed hours, and each expression of each witness, both in the examination in chief and upon the cross examination, showed a degree of official corruption that we never supposed existed even in "the ring." The trial will be concluded to-day.—Rich, Whig.

Congress.

In the Senate, yesterday, the House resolution requesting the President to use his good offices with the British Government to secure the speedy release of Rev. John McMahon, now confined at Kingston, Canada on a charge of treason and felony, was passed. The bill supplementary to the act to provide a national currency secured by a pledge of U. S. notes, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof, was again under consideration. The amendment of the Finance Committee, making the limitation which restricts the liabilities of individuals, companies, &c., for money borrowed of national banking associations to one-tenth of the capital of such associations, applicable to all deposits made by such associations with private bankers or brokers, or banking associaions not organized under the National Curren cy act, was passed. An amendment increas ing the National bank circulation $20,000,000 gave rise to considerable discussion, and without voting upon it the Senate adjourned. In the House of Representatives, yesterday, the Senate's amendments to the bill for the admission of South Carolina and other States, were reported by the Reconstruction Committee, with the recommendation that they be adopted. An amendment was proposed to omit Florida from the bill, which was supported by several Radicals, but after considerable discussion it was rejected, and the bill passed as it came from the Senate, every Radical present voting for it. The Internal Revenue Tax bill was debated during the remainder of the session, and again at night, and the House adjourned until this morning.

The Case of Virginia.

Virginia was in the Union, under the Wheeling and Alexandria Constitutions, during the whole of the war. She had the full organization and machinery of a State. She was represented in both Houses of Congress, and recognized by every department of the government as a State in the Union. West Virginia, which was carved out of her, was recognized as a State, by virtue of her sovereign assent as a State under the Wheeling Constitution. It follows either that Virginia is now a State in the Union or West Virginia is not. Congress has decided, by including Virginia in the reconstruction acts, that she is not a State in the Union; and Congress yet suffers the Senators and Representatives from West Virginia to keep their seats in both branches of that body!

What a farce this whole thing is! Congress plays with States as a child plays with rattles. It may be that the eyes of the country will yet be opened to the iniquity and fraud that have almost penniless, with three children to supbeen practised in the case of Virginia. We port-all daughters. These girls-all young were told that if we would assent to the Alexparcel of the Union. We did so; and almost | third, which promises well in the twinkling of an eye Congress blotted the State out of the Union in order to bring her in under the auspices of the negroes. This is good faith, and this Radical statesmanship!-When they find that they cannot cram negro supremacy down our throats, they may fall back upon the Alexandria government. It should be borne in mind that the case of Virginia is peculiar and unlike that of any of her sister States of the South. There has been an iniquity in her case that has not been practised in any other .- Rich. Whig.

Commissioner Rollins' resignation has been returned to him by Secretary McCulloch, with the remark that the letter accompanying it "is considered partial and incorrect in its statements, and unjust and disrepectful to the President." Mr. Rollins returned Mr. Me-Culloch's letter, with the endorsement that unless the Secretary should point out wherein his letter was "either partial and incorrect in its statements," or "unjust and disrepectful to the President," he must "consider its return to him as unjustifiable, and the reasons I therefor others than those assigned."

NORTHERN CAPITALISTS COMING.-Mr. John Dratt, of Wayne county, New York, has purchased a farm of six hundred acres, about six miles from Bowling Green, in Caroline county, known as "White Hall," famed as the family seat of the Woodfords of Revolutionary renown-paying one-half cash, the balance on long credit. Mr. D. is the type of just such men as we want; strictly honest, moderate in politics and enterprising, and professes an earnest wish for the prosperity of Virginia, and, in fact of the whole South. He says all that is necessary to make Virginia the most delightful spot on the globe is a little capital and energy. He has returned to his home preparatory to removing his family to Virginia. He represents an increasing desire in the North to invest in Virginia lands, but the very horrible stories that have gone up from the "carpetbaggers"in regard to the people of the State, have, so far, deterred them from even visiting us, for fear of personal violence! Mr. D. expects to bring with him on his return about about fifty staunch, intelligent gentlemen, who will make Virginia their home, and who will prove an acquisition to her financially and sociafly. - Fredericksburg Ledger.

THE WASHINGTON MUNICIPAL "SITUA-TION."-The committee appointed under the resolution offered by Mr. Fenwick, on Thursday, were early at work, and were in consultation with the eminent legal talent of the city who have been retained as the counsel for the Corporation. The committee, in conjunction with Mayor Lloyd, met at 12 o'clock, at the office of Mr. Bradley. Here they were joined by Messrs. Bradley, Merrick, and Davidge, and they were in session for a considerable time, discussing as to in what manner they should commence their proceedings in court.

It is understood that the following was agreed ed by the committee to commence proceedings in the courts by applying for an injunction to restrain Mr. Bowen from exercising the functions of Mayor; Mr. T. E. Lloyd, as Mayor ad interim, to issue his proclamation calling the Boards together this afternoon, when they will take measures to inform Mr. Bowen that they do not acknowledge him as the legal Mayor of the city, and also steps to impeach the Register for malfeasance in office in issuing certificates of election to parties who were not returned as elected .-- Nat. THE VOTE ON THE CONSTITUTION-NO Money .- While no one at headquarters has any idea when the vote will be taken on the Constitution, and for State officers, there is one thing they do know, and that is, that there is no money on hand to defray the expenses of an election, if ordered right away.

Col. Stanton, United States paymaster for this district, reports that the actual amount that will be required to run reconstruction in Virginia until December next, will exceed the estimate upon which the appropriation for that purpose was based-$93,000. In other words, that there is a deficiency of $93,000, which must be forthcoming, in addition to what has been aiready spent to carry out the beneficent legislation of Congress for the recoustruction-we ought to say destruction-of the State of Virginia. - Rich. Whig.

Ex-GOVERNOR BUCKINGHAM, of Cond., recently elected by the radical Legislature to the Senate, is lying so ill that his life is despaired of. If he should die the democratic Governor (English) would, under the operation of the present laws, have the appointment of a Senator, who would serve until the election of a new Legislature. To prevent such a contingency, a bill was introduced yesterday in the Senate by Mr. Edmunds, the effect of which will be to give the power to the radical Legislature to proceed at once to elect a new Senator in case the Senator elect should die. There never was a legislative body, since the foundation of governments which has enacted so much special legislation to further party purposes as this Congress.—Balt. Sun.

A PRIEST SENT TO PRISON.—Rev. Lambert Young, a Catholic priest, is in jail at Frankfort, Ky., for refusing to testify as to facts which came within his observation while endeavoring, at the solicitation of the civil authorities, to dissuade the crowd from mob violence, when in January last, a negro was lynched for alleged violence upon an Irish girl, in that neighborhood. He claims that, having been permitted to go into the infuriated crowd solely in deference to his priestly office, it would be a breach of trust for him to testify. Judge Ballard, of the U.S. Court, overruled his objections, and he still refusing, on the plea of conscience, to answer questions, was sent to jail "for contempt of court."
